

Who We Are

The Home School Association for Military Families is the leading nonprofit dedicated to serving the military homeschool community.

What We Do

Our primary service is to families of active duty and retired, members of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Coast Guard and Reserves.

How We Do It

Since 2012, we have worked to strengthen and unite thousands of families through our programs and collaborative efforts. We provide mentorship, student support programs, community activities, and consultation services.

P. O. Box 642221
Omaha, NE 68164

Phone: 402-906-9766
Email: info@hsamf.org
Website: www.hsamf.org

“H SAMF unites us, military moms, dads, and children across the globe.”

—Jenny Harris,
Air Force Spouse

Community

Join us in our mission to encourage, support, and unite military families regardless of duty station or branch of service.

- We are a network of families, homeschool group leaders, and military/homeschool advocates. Together we proudly provide support and a strong unified voice in a uniquely challenging environment.
- Partner with civilian homeschoolers and local community groups.
- Children connect through our traditional pen pal program.

Resources

Unite home education with the local community through educational, charitable, and volunteer opportunities.

- Annual Subscription to Home School Enrichment Magazine
- Christmas Cards for Troops
- Mentoring and Consulting Services
- Monthly Newsletters
- Educator Discount Card
- Homeschooling Starter Kit for parents just beginning the homeschool journey. Our kit supplies tons of helpful information and free resources.

Support

Helping families with information, educational opportunities, scholarships, and special programs.

- Support while homeschooling during a deployment
- Special Needs Assistance
- Assistance while homeschooling preschoolers
- Liaison between individual families and homeschool groups and their respective installations
- Liaison between installations and individual families and homeschool groups
- Support for local homeschool groups and their leaders

Did You Know?

According to the DoDEA, children in military families face unique challenges that are unparalleled in the general student population. As military families transition from one duty station to another, the average child will move six to nine times during a school career.

Common stresses involved in relocating are loss of friends, moving away from family, and the emotional challenge of starting over—again.

Homeschooling helps military parents and children avoid public school strains imposed by differences in achievement standards, school protocols, and course offerings. In addition homeschooling allows them the ability to spend time together when missions and deployments have the potential to tear them apart.

Your membership provides families with critical support during these challenging times.